Army Readiness Assessment Program (ARAP)

The screenshot shows the ARAP web application in a Windows Internet Explorer browser window. The address bar displays <https://arap.safety.army.mil/>. The page features a dark header with the US Army logo, the text "ARMY SAFE IS ARMY STRONG", and navigation links: "USACR/SAFETY CENTER HOME", "ABOUT US", "HELP", "CONTACTS & FEEDBACK".

The main content area is titled "Army Readiness Assessment Program". It includes an "ARAP Overview" section on the left, which describes the program's purpose and lists five segments: Process Auditing, Reward Systems, Quality Control, Risk Management, and Command and Control. Below this, a list of questions is provided, and a paragraph explains the feedback process.

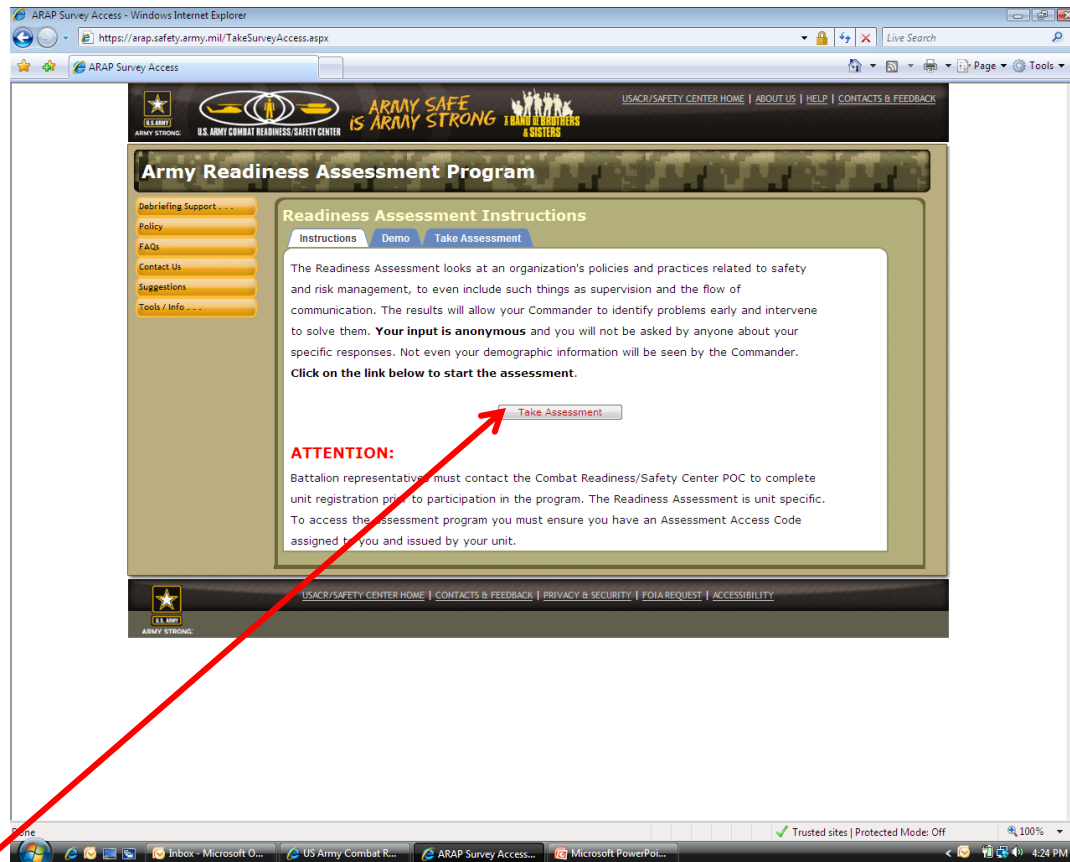

On the right side, there are two prominent orange buttons: "Take an Assessment" and "Commanders / Unit POC's". A red arrow points from the "Take an Assessment" button to the "Take an Assessment" section below it. This section includes an "Introduction" with a video player and a "Commander Access Module" table.

At the bottom of the main content area, there are four orange buttons: "So, what's in it for me?", "Commander's Feedback", "Interesting Points", and "Tools / Info".

The footer of the page contains the US Army logo and the same navigation links as the header. The browser's status bar at the bottom shows "Error on page.", "Trusted sites | Protected Mode: Off", and the time "4:23 PM".
